THE LOWEST COST ONLINE TRAINING DELIVERY SYSTEM. AN ALL-IN-ONE PACKAGE, EXTERNALLY HOSTED, DRIVEN FROM YOUR OWN PC!

System 1.

We have devised and operate for you the simplest of systems all handled by e-mail from your PC in 6 easy steps.

1. E-mail the link we provide you with to your employee or contractor for the selected training to be given.
2. They click to log on, enter their personal password to activate.
3. They click on the viewing window to play the Training Video.
4. After viewing they click and an online Q & A pops up in an E-mail format for their completion.
5. They click to send/close and you immediately receive on your PC the record of viewing and verification of their understanding of the training given.
6. You can then file that record or drag and drop into your Excel or other database.

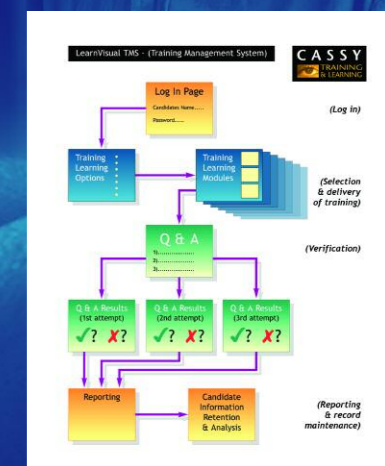

Everything can be hosted on our dedicated server so that you have absolutely no IT issues in setting up or in delivering training Online - but you can drive and control it from your desk. The Training Video is either downloaded and played as it is buffered or when cached, or the video can be streamed depending the recipients' E-mail connection speed or the quantity of persons to be trained at one time. We will advise on what's best for you. Downloading is routine for smaller numbers wanting to view the video at the same time. Streaming is best when you may want hundreds or thousands trained at the same time.

TRAIN FROM ONE PERSON TO MANY THOUSANDS... ALL AT THE SAME TIME

System 2.

For more extended features and functionality we have a further system that is still very straightforward and can be either hosted externally by us or fully integrated within your own systems and IT support arrangements in any way that you might want it.

This 2nd tier system is designed to hold an entire library of Video based training modules and can be linked directly to a back end database as extensive, as interrogative and as robust as you may wish.

System 3.

For an infinitely scalable open learning system we use world leading proprietary software and work with a global leading software systems house to install and train in the system's operation for which we produce the video based training content.

It is rare that an organisation will ever need this top tier level of system, but it is comforting for you to know that it is available through us and that the system's training material, the key content value of any system, is tailored to your precise needs to provide the ultimate level in both systems and content.
